Sunscreen Wipe

Sunscreen wipes are facial towelettes soaked or moistened in a liquid sunscreen solution. They are used to wipe the face, neck, and arms to protect the skin from the harmful effects of long-term sun exposure. The sunguard wipe is convenient enough to keep in the car, purse, backpack or for use by frequent flyers.

An sunscreen wipe with the most sought after features. Vanishes quickly into the skin, leaving behind no memory of the application. It bonds well to skin and enough for a person wearing shorts and a t-shirt. Aside from giving sun protection, sunscreen wipes also provide a cooling effect so you can use them to freshen up anytime of the day. They are convenient and easy to apply since they leave no sticky residue on the hands and skin.
